I am going to organise an event, Is there any good event management tool for it?

Absolutely, but I agree with some of the other answers here:

This question is far too broad and has too many answers. There are certain event management apps that won't fulfill the requirements or don't have features for managing certain types of events.

Generally, when talking about a great event management application - I can definitely recommend EventLeaf by LobbyTech. The app is great overall, and my company and I have used it a couple of times for a bunch of different events (I'm an event organizer/manager by profession) and it was great. I like it the most out of the ones I used.

The question is so broad and the answer depends on what kind of event you are producing, the size of the event, and which portion of the event you want to manage via a tool or app.

While some people on the thread have suggested tools like Trello, which is awesome, I personally don't find it necessary in planning an event. I've been in the event industry for over a third of my lifetime. I've produced everything from club events to weddings, corporate parties, fundraisers, dinners, concerts, and conferences.

Your best weapon will be a kick ass checklist and a team to help you execute the list.

You can mange your checklist via Excel or an app out there whether Trello, iPhone Notes.

In terms of managing your event on your customer/ attendee facing aspects, a good event producer will care about the brand of the event, the SEO generated from marketing efforts, and the conversation they have with their audience.

You should consider white label, no brand tools such as Sparxo (www.sparxo.com) which are free for event producers to use and allow you to handle the entire end-to-end experience for registration and ticketing, check-in, onsite POS, and more!

Handle attendee registration, track payments, and manage event schedules.

What they Feel

Frustrated with the complexity of managing events manually or with multiple platforms.

Journey Mapping

Stages	Searching for registering event for a famous concert	identifying the available event	Registering the event	Choosing a slot for that event	Paying amount for event	Receiving slot for that event
Action	When I need to register. I would take the decision by sudden so I need a user friendly interface	After searching I could verify by calling to other registered peoples about the event	While registering the basic details would be taken from my existing database to register easy	Since I would book ticket in a last minute I would prefer front seat for that If that is excess pay	After deciding for paying the mode of payment should be easy like accessing throught UPI	Receiving a message for conformation
Touch point	Mobile Hotels or restaurants	Through phone call	Mobile	mobile / laptop	Paying amount through cash or UPI	Mobile phone
Pain point	Some time the UI would be non attractive and bad usability experience	Sometimes it would take much time to register	So of the app would ask the details from first which make me for frustrated	Sometimes premium slot won't able to buy through that app	Waiting to generate ticker	There could not be a proper response it Leeds to feel bad
Emotion	Unhappy	frustrated, tensed	eager	Unhappy	Satisfied	Unhappy
Oppourtunity	If an user friendly and easy ui would be available I'll register soon	Sometimes it can found easily	They could share name as well other details prior	What if premium slot can be booked through that app	Prior automated bill generator for that event	They could response fast and in good way
